Date: 20th August 2024

Time: 1:00 PM

Venue: Room No. 09

No. of Participants: 170

Organised by – Anti-ragging Cell

An Anti-Ragging Awareness Programme was conducted on 20th August 2024 at 1:00 PM in Room No. 09. The event aimed to foster a ragging-free and joyful campus environment, emphasizing the importance of ethical conduct, gender sensitization, and preventing sexual harassment. The program drew 185 participants, including students and faculty, and featured insightful talks by esteemed speakers.

Key Topics Addressed:

1. Ragging-Free Joyful Campus:

The session began with a discussion on creating a harmonious and inclusive campus environment free of ragging. The participants were encouraged to foster friendship, respect, and camaraderie to promote a positive and enjoyable learning atmosphere.

2. Model Code of Conduct:

The significance of adhering to a model code of conduct within the campus was stressed. The students were briefed on the rules and regulations that guide appropriate behavior and interaction among peers, ensuring a safe and welcoming academic environment.

3. Gender Sensitization:

Gender equality and respect for all individuals were highlighted as crucial elements for building a progressive campus. The importance of treating everyone with dignity, regardless of gender, was emphasized, aiming to create a space where all students feel valued and respected.

4. Sexual Harassment:

The program also focused on raising awareness about sexual harassment, including recognizing, preventing, and addressing inappropriate behavior. Students were informed about the policies in place to protect them from harassment and the mechanisms available to report such incidents.

Speakers and their Key Points:

• Mr. Supravat Chakraborty (SDPO, Arambagh):

Mr. Chakraborty delivered an insightful talk on Cyber Harassment. He explained the growing threat of online harassment, emphasizing the need for students to be cautious while using social media and online platforms. He also discussed legal frameworks in place to combat cybercrimes and how students can protect themselves from digital harassment.

- Mr. Madhusudan Pal (O.C, Goghat P.S):

Mr. Pal inspired students by discussing the various career opportunities in government jobs. His talk aimed to motivate students to focus on their future careers, emphasizing that a well-disciplined and ragging-free campus would help them achieve their professional goals.

- Mr. Jayanta De (BDO, Goghat-2):

Mr. De focused on the Demerits of Ragging and shared practical ways to prevent it. He spoke about how ragging negatively impacts both the victims and perpetrators, often hindering students' academic progress. He also stressed the importance of focusing on their education and future careers, rather than engaging in harmful activities.

Conclusion:

The Anti-Ragging Awareness Program successfully raised awareness among students about the negative consequences of ragging and harassment. The event underscored the importance of maintaining a joyful, inclusive, and respectful campus environment. The participants left with a deeper understanding of the legal, ethical, and social responsibilities they hold as students.

The event was well-received, with active participation and positive feedback from the attendees. The administration aims to conduct more such awareness programs in the future to ensure a safe and nurturing environment for all students.
